PAUL OSTRANDER IN COUNTY JAIL

CHARGED WITH ASSAULT TO DO GREAT BODILY HARM

Paul Ostrander, about 22 years of age, is in jail to await the next term of Circuit court, charged with assault, against his stepfather, Frank Sanders, to do great bodily harm.

It appears that Paul, who it is said, is a husky, strong individual, apparently doesn't like to work. He is reported to have taken exception to his stepfather when the latter suggested that he go to work at something. His mother too remonstrated with him and Paul got hot-headed over the matter and threatened to clean up on his stepfather. He started for the Box factory Tuesday night, where Sanders is night engineer, for that purpose. His mother wishing to avert any possible harm beat him there and notified her husband that Paul was on his way. When the latter arrived Sanders, it is stated, tried to reason with him but it was of no use and apparently Ostrander persisted in his destructive intent. His mother stepped between the two men and Paul dragged her out of the room.

Sheriff Bobenmoyer was called and Ostrander was landed in jail. Wednesday morning all the parties were present at the arraignment. Ostrander was charged with assault with intent to do great bodily harm. He pleaded "not guilty." Prosecuting attorney Nellist endeavored to reason with him, agreeing to reduce the charge against him to a minor offense provided he would agree to go to work and behave himself. He claimed that he had paid his board and would not agree to be good until Sanders left him alone. Mrs. Sanders, his mother, spoke up and said that Paul had at one time paid her $7.00 for board and that was all he had ever paid her, and that he had been borrowing a dollar back from her.

It was explained to Ostrander that the offense he was charged with might send him to State prison, and he said he didn't care.

Well, one thing certain, he will work if he gets down to Jackson or Ionia prison, and we don't mean maybe. If he thinks he is going to show the authorities who is the boss, he'll soon find out. He's going to work, if he gets sent up, and he'll soon make up his mind that it would have been much better had he been more ambitious at home and tried to be a more respected and desirable citizen.

His case is bound over to Circuit court for trial July 15th. In the meantime he will board with the sheriff where he will have plenty of time to think it over.

Former Governor Osborn will speak at this session, as will Post Commander Owsley.

Gov. Green will speak at the Saturday morning session, and again at the annual convention banquet, at which Attorney General Brucker will also speak. The Sunday memorial services will be under the direction of the Rev. John Drew, Grand Rapids priest and department chaplain. The principal address will be made by Mr. Osborn.

From private to major in two years of military service, and from a plain, hard-working post worker in a little Arkansas city to national commander of the American Legion, are the achievements marking the career of O. L. Bodenhamer, head of the service men's post-war service organization.

Commander Bodenhamer has accepted the invitation of Michigan Legionnaires to deliver the principal address at the department convention in Sault Ste. Marie, July 4-6.

Under Bodenhamer's leadership the Eldorado post established an enviable membership record, jumping from 74 to 814 in a period of six months. A similar record of progress was made by the Arkansas department of the American Legion with Bodenhamer serving as department commander. He was later Arkansas' representative on the Legion's National Legislative Committee in 1925 and served as a member of various other national committees. His consistent record of Legion service made him the unanimous choice for national commander at the Louisville national convention, in 1925.

Born at Goldthwaite, Texas, the present Legion commander faced serious financial obstacles in obtaining an education. He earned his own way through school but between tending furnaces, mowing lawns and doing other odd jobs to pay for his college training, he found time to take a vigorous part in campus activities. He was a recognized leader of his classmates, a college orator, played football and was an organizer and director of various student activities. He was graduated with high honors from both Howard Payne College of Brownwood, Texas, and Baylor University of Waco.

A successful real estate dealer, the Arkansas oil fields brought him wealth and prestige, both of which he has turned to the promotion of state and local activities. His manifold interests have included the affairs of the Salvation Army, Boy Scouts, community chest and endowment of parks and playgrounds.

He is a speaker of note, and his presence at the Michigan department convention will give it added significance.

JUSTICE DECIDES CHRISTMAS TREE CASE—NO CAUSE FOR ACTION

A case brot into justice court by Chris King vs. Rasmus Rasmussen before Justice H. Petersen, was found in favor of the respondent. This case arose out of a supposed sale of Christmas trees by King to Rasmusson, the former claiming that the latter had ordered the trees and Rasmusson does not deny having talked about Christmas trees with the plaintiff but says that he did not place an order.

Both parties are honest citizens and one's word apparently as good as the other. Mr. King produced witnesses who claimed to have heard parts of the conversation.

It was a difficult case to decide and Justice Petersen did everything possible to get the matter settled out of court but the respondent, Mr. Rasmusson, declined to do so, asking a verdict in his favor. Accordingly he was given the verdict. Mr. King says he is not satisfied and, with the assistance of his attorney, M. F. Nellist, will endeavor to get Mr. Rasmusson to share partly in the cost of getting out the trees and the court costs. If that fails, Mr. King says, he will appeal the case to Circuit court.

GRAYLING—OUR NEW RESORT LITERATURE

10,000 COPIES READY FOR DISTRIBUTION

Grayling's new resort literature starts right off with a bang. The front cover contains a fine reproduction of a grayling fish in its natural form and colors. In large letters is the word Grayling. This cover is remarkably striking and at once attracts attention wherever it is seen.

Inside of the front cover is published an outline map showing the principal highways leading to Grayling from points in Indiana, Ohio and from some of the larger cities in Michigan.

The frontispiece gives a detailed description of the cover and a historical sketch about the Ausable river and the grayling fish.

Throughout the book there are interesting pictorial views taken in Crawford county. Some of these border on the esthetic while others combine beauty with scenes of resorting life. Scenes along the Ausable river take in an entire page by themselves.

Other pages show fishing, camping and boating scenes and, not the least interesting, winter sports scenes.

One whole page is devoted to a sketch on the life and habits of Chief Shoggonagons, well known hunter and guide who made his home here and who died at the age of about 100 years in 1911.

Two pages are devoted to "Points of Interest in Grayling—Crawford County." These offer a guide to the stranger, telling him what to see and how to get there. These descriptions are augmented by pictures on the center double spread; pages of the book, each numbered to correspond.

On the inside of the back cover there is a partial county map with numbers corresponding to the numbered paragraphs, making the places easy to locate.

Other pages show views of the Edward E. Hartwick Memorial Pines park; Higgins Lake State Forestry; numerous summer homes on the rivers; the Hanson State Military Reservation; Golf course; wild life scenes and many other interesting features.

The booklet contains 16 pages, printed on 80 pound enamel paper, and blue cover. The pictures throughout the booklet are all actual scenes taken right here in Crawford county. There was no need for the artists' brush in order to make them beautiful—their natural beauty told a story that no artist could paint. Right here we wish to give credit to the Detroit News for use of the photographs from which most of the pictures were made. The photography was wonderful.

This pictorial story of Crawford county's recreational resources has been beautifully presented. The compilation of the matter that makes up its pages is a credit to Grayling Board of Trade. It has meant a lot of hard work on the part of the publicity committee and others who aided in the conferences.

It has taken a lot of money to get out this splendid publication. Our business men have been fine about responding to the appeal for funds, but over $700 is a lot of money to raise and there is still need of more finances. We understand that some of Grayling's former residents, in whom the loyalty for the old home town is still high, are coming to the aid of the Board financially. And that's certainly very fine and duly appreciated.

While these booklets are for circulation among prospective summer visitors, still anyone wishing for one should write A. J. Joseph, secretary of the board. One will be mailed at once.

CARD OF THANKS

We, the undersigned, wish to thank the friends and neighbors for their kind sympathy and their beautiful flowers.

Mrs. Anna Wells, wife.
Mrs. Rachel Bolsby, daughter.
Roy Wells, son.

DR. GUY KIEFER

The sudden death of State Health Commissioner Guy L. Kiefer removes one of that group of remarkably capable citizens who were persuaded by Governor Green to accept the leadership of several state departments after his inauguration.

It is an encouraging fact in Michigan public life that there are men of Dr. Kiefer's attainments who do not scorn public service but glory in the opportunity it presents of bringing efficiency and really beneficial performance into the political field. From 1895 to the date of his death Dr. Kiefer had given to the public a total of more than thirty years of his effort successfully as county and city physician at Detroit, city health officer, member of the state board of health, member and chairman of the state advisory council of health, and state health commissioner.

For a physician of his attainments and potential earning capacity at least, the later years of this long service represented an unselfish and heavy sacrifice of personal interests for the state. Michigan, whose health department has acquired increasing importance in the war on pollution and other tasks turned over to it in recent years, suffers a notable loss in his passing. ## QUEEN CONTEST FOR EASTERN MICHIGAN

SELECT 5 BY BALLOT, OUTSIDE JUDGES SELECT WINNERS

Contests for the selection of queens for the Eastern Michigan Water Carnival from every town in this half of the state, Bay City to the Straits, will begin in most places about the first of June.

And, when the middle of July will have rolled around, there will be some forty girls ready to participate in the final contest at Bay City the first day of the Carnival, July 31, to determine which of them will be Miss Eastern Michigan for 1930. Last year Loraine Budge, of Beaverton, won out.

The winner this year, in addition to the honor she will have heaped upon her at Bay City, will be sent to the beauty pageant at Miami, Fla., in the winter of 1930-31.

Selection of the city queens will be generally by means of ballots distributed through local merchants and the theatre. A maximum of five girls from each town are eligible to compete in the several district contests which will be held at Cheboygan, Gaylord, Grayling, West Branch, Standish, Bay City, Bad Axe, East Tawas and Alpena. At these contests one girl will be chosen from Grayling from the several who may have represented Grayling in the first place. Outside judges will preside. These selected girls will be the ones eligible to go to the final contest at Bay City.

Voting will start in most districts June 1; in the West Branch district June 10; and possibly in others June 15. The balloting periods, as a rule, will run one month, or as long as the district chairman sees fit.

TAXES AND INDUSTRY

A few years ago a strong movement toward the decentralization of industry began. Manufacturing business of all kinds are moving from congested districts into smaller cities and towns.

As a result, for the first time in our history, the small community has the opportunity to expand and become an industrial center.

There is but one fly in the ointment—the high taxes in effect in many communities. Exorbitant taxation is the age-old foe of industry.

No matter what its other attractions may be, the town without an efficient, economical government striving to keep taxes at a reasonable level, will be left out of the industrial picture.—Lyons, (N. Y.) Republican.

DO YOU KNOW?

Do you know? That next week is Poppy Week? That the poppies sold by American Legion Auxiliary members at that time are made by disabled soldiers in hospital wards?

That by buying and wearing a poppy you will be paying tribute to the dead and rendering a service to the unfortunate living?

That the sale of these poppies is the means of supporting thousands of families left by soldiers who have made the supreme sacrifice?

Should you wish to know more about the poppy cause listen to a program to be broadcast over WBCM Bay City, on the evenings of May 22 and 23, between 7:00 and 8:00 o'clock. A similar program will also be broadcast over WGHP Friday evening from Detroit, beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

FENTON CRALL DRIVES AUTO INTO HOUSE

ARRESTED ON CHARGE DRIVING WHILE INTOXICATED

Striking the auto of Algot Johnson, Fenton Crall, driving a Buick auto continued on and apparently tried to round the corner at Ogema and Chestnut streets but instead crashed his car into the James Bugby house on the corner. Boards were splintered, windows shattered and one seat ripped out of the car and the machine damaged generally, all before Crall and the machine came to a stop.

In the car with Crall were his wife and Barton Wakeley. The latter was badly cut and bruised, but not seriously. Mrs. Crall also received some bad cuts and bruises. Sheriff Bobenmoyer promptly took Crall into camp and locked him up for the night.

Wednesday morning Crall appeared before Justice Petersen and pled not guilty to the charge of driving an auto while under the influence of liquor. His trial has been set for Wednesday, May 28th.

G.H.S. WINS ONE LOSES ONE

Grayling split a two-try week-end bill with a sparkling 6-2 win from Lake City on the opponent's home lot, and then dropping the Saturday fray to Manton in a combination of the horsehide pastime and the hot-stove league by the difference between 9 and 11.

The lake-siders and Grayling played a nice game of ball. It ran off in a snappy fashion and featured some nice exhibitions on the part of members of each team. Schmidt did the gesticulating on the mound for Grayling and the Northern Lights were close to a shutout only to see it go glimmering away as two runs counted in the ninth.

Next day Manton and Grayling staged a real old-fashioned session that combined some of the various features of a debate, race riot, authentic mob scene from Julius Caesar, and allowing room for nine innings of good and bad baseball among the hummocks. In the eighth the score was tied at eight all, but Manton plastered the offerings of relief pitcher Schmidt to the safe areas for a deciding three runs. Sheehy had waved his portside flipper in front of the Manton batters for all but that last stanza. The Northern Lights came back with a run in the last inning as Loskos and Pankow doubled in succession, but the rally died without further results, and the Lights went out.

1930 SENIOR CLASS SKIP DAY

(By Mary Mahneke)

6:00 o'clock. The crowd has gathered in front of the school house where several cars are waiting. The sun has not yet put in its appearance, but promises to soon.

6:15 Mr. and Mrs. Welsh who are to act as chaperons, have arrived. The class is all here. So everyone chooses his or her special conveyance and crowds in. A few minutes are spent as to the arrangements of the six cars. A honking of horns, and much noise down U. S.-27 and the Senior Skip Day has begun.

The first hour or two, the sky continued to threaten, and it rained a little. At Clark's the first stop, it cleared up considerably, and from then on to Lansing the sun shone cheerfully. Thru Mt. Pleasant to Shepherd rode the party, singing "Graying Will Shine," where the procession halted a few minutes to visit Miss Estee, last year's history teacher at G.H.S. Then on, thru Alma and St. Louis to St. Johns where a short stop was made at an aunt of one of the girls, who informed the crowd that a cyclone had done considerable damage near there. Three miles out of Lansing, the destruction the storm had wrought became evident. Everywhere along the road were trees uprooted by the force of the wind, and barns blown over. It was a sight well worth seeing.

Time passed quickly and by 11:00 o'clock the class arrived in Lansing. Congregating in the lobby of the Olds Hotel, the subject of dinner was brought up. It was decided to engage a private dining room to accommodate the thirty-six members of the party. The service was excellent and the meal delicious.

After dinner, a visit to the Capitol was suggested. The class in a body were shown through the entire Capitol—the Supreme Court Room, the Representatives and the Senate Room, the Museum. They climbed to the top of the Capitol tower where an excellent view of the city could be obtained. Lastly, the entire class were presented to Fred W. Green, Michigan Governor, who shook hands with everyone and commented on the boys' green sweaters and G's. After everything of interest had been seen at the Capitol, the crowd separated, the boys going for a swim at the Y.M.C.A., and the girls visiting the Blind Institute. However, because it was after school hours, not much could be seen, except a few of the classrooms and recreation rooms, which proved interesting, nevertheless.

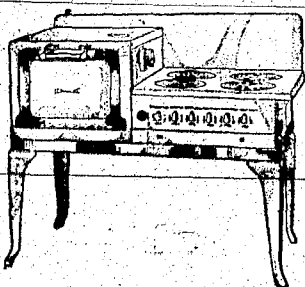

From the Blind Institute, some of the group drove out to the Michigan State College Campus, where a ball game was in progress. Also, being Military Day, a review was held.

At 5:00 o'clock the crowd again assembled at the Old Hotel, where they decided to go over to Saginaw for supper and the show or dance afterwards, from thence on home. Arriving in Saginaw at 7:00 supper was eaten at the Coffee Shop of the Hotel Bancroft. After supper, it was left to individual choice as to whether to see a show or go to a dance. At 12:00 o'clock, everyone returned from show and dance, the homeward journey began. It was a non-stop trip from Saginaw to Grayling as everyone was tired and sleepy from the excitement of the day. At four a. m. the crowd of weary people reached Grayling, dead for sleep but still wide awake enough to remark how much they enjoyed the Senior Skip Day of 1930.

A lot of the more rabid internationalists will not be satisfied until Uncle Sam disarms completely and pays the rest of the world to disarm.

CURE THE FAST DRIVER

There is a lot of justifiable complaint about the way some auto drivers speed thru the business and residential districts. Many seem to utterly disregard the state highway laws and breeze thru town at an unreasonable rate of speed.

And that doesn't apply to traffic on U. S. 27 only for it is equally as bad in other parts of the city. One isn't safe even while walking along a sidewalk for it sometimes occurs that speeding cars get out of control at times and then perhaps another car appears from somewhere and the driver becomes confused and, Bingo! Too late. Something has happened.

Look at the way Fenton, Crall swerved around the corner of Ogemaw and Chestnut streets Monday night. Of course it is claimed that he was under the influence of intoxicating liquor, but he certainly must have been driving pretty fast. Had there been anyone on the sidewalk he surely would have been struck.

Fifteen or 20 miles per hour is plenty fast enough to drive thru the business district, and 25 miles per hour in the residential district. At the latter rate of speed it only takes a short time to drive from one end of town to the other, so there is no good reason why drivers shouldn't be compelled to comply with the State laws in regard to speed.

Another dangerous practice is backing away from the curb the wrong way. The writer is equally guilty with others in this, but nevertheless it is not right and is a dangerous practice. And too, drivers should not turn around in the middle of the block in the business district. They should drive to the nearest intersection before turning.

The traffic light regulates the traffic on the main corner, but drivers turning right on either red or green light should be required to come to a stop. This too would be a good safety movement.

But by all means, let's curb the speeders, before someone is killed or maimed.

We believe that there should be a county traffic committee appointed by the Board of supervisors for the purpose of hearing all traffic violations before they are taken into court. And there should be an ordinance compelling all parties involved with accidental accidents to report to that committee on penalty of a fine or imprisonment for failure to report. This would compel both parties involved in an accident to report to the traffic committee. We believe such an ordinance would help to reduce careless or indifferent driving. Such a law is already in effect in other cities and it is claimed to be very effective.

WITH THE coming of summer days we make a spurge to clean up our yards and possibly plant a few flowers and vegetables and then it seems that some people feel that they have done their part toward keeping the "Town Beautiful."

But that is only a beginning. It is each and everyone's business to do his part toward keeping his home property clean and attractive. The cost is little—only requires what the Life Agricultural Agent R. D. Bailey used to call "gumption." Effort and a little work will do wonders toward keeping the yard clean, the lawn properly mowed and the grass clipped.

By all means, whenever possible, have some kind of garden and then take care of it. If one hasn't the convenience of city water they will find that frequent cultivation with a hoe will do a lot toward irrigation. Farmers almost entirely have to depend upon that kind of irrigation during periods of drought, and it works well too.

We need more attractive homes.

The June 13 meeting of the Tri-County Sportsmen's Club sounds better and better. Now R. G. Schreck, of East Tawas, secretary and treasurer, tells us that the toastmaster for the banquet is to be none other than Harvey Campbell, vice-president and secretary of the Detroit Board of Commerce. There are reputed to be no dull moments in a program of which Mr. Campbell has charge. And as his chief speaker, he's bringing along Harold Emmons, famed Detroit police commissioner, lawyer and sportsman. Looks as if Mio-on-the-Ausable will be an interesting place for a sportsman to be on June 13.

Maybe so many of the politicians wouldn't be continually sitting on the fence if the voters would see to it that the political fences are made of barbed wire.

Some Things We Cannot Borrow
There are a great number of things which we can borrow from our neighbors. Household necessities, clothes, and even their automobiles if they will to loan them.

But there is ONE THING which we cannot borrow from others no matter how generous they may be. We CANNOT borrow CHARACTER. Once Jesus told a story about five stupid virgins that tried to borrow oil from the five wise virgins. He indicated therein that personal reserves of spirit and character cannot be transferred. No religious person can loan his character. He can only tell the other person how to obtain it.

Are we making the mistake of these stupid ones? Methinks I have known of some who were included in the bit of doggerel:

"In the world's broad field of battle,
In the bivouac of life,
You will find the average layman
Represented by HIS WIFE."

DISTRIBUTES HEALTH BULLETIN TO SCHOOL CHILDREN

Superintendent H. LaBarge is distributing this week to local grade teachers the final school year number of the "Wolverine Health Bulletin," child health publication of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association. The magazine features a four color drawing entitled "Jack O' Play" and a story illustrating the health benefits of play in the outdoors.

The story, centering about two child characters, Henry and Katherine, shows that outdoor play is not only fun, but improves health by getting fresh air into the lungs; stimulating appetite, inducing plentiful use of water, and causing sound sleep.

Seven numbers of the Bulletin, a Christmas seal financed enterprise of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association, have been issued by the Association and distributed to the teachers during the current school year, for their use in teaching health.

The Michigan Central railroad has acquired the Detroit & Charlevoix railroad from the Ward estate, and it is pretty certain that the road will be extended from its present terminus at South Arin to Charlevoix, a distance of 11 miles. The Board of Commerce of Charlevoix has secured practically every foot of the right-of-way for the extension. The Detroit & Charlevoix, although a logging road, was built with a view to turning it over to one of the big trunk lines in course of time. It is a well constructed road, and will carry all the traffic that can be crowded onto it. The deal means much to East Jordan as well as to Charlevoix. When the road is completed into Charlevoix it would not be surprising if the Grand Rapids & Indiana road secured an entrance to that city over the line. This would give Charlevoix three railroads, in addition to splendid boat service during the season of navigation.

Mrs. J. E. Bradley, Dead
One of the saddest deaths that has taken place in our village in many years, was that of Mrs. J. E. Bradley which occurred at her home here Friday morning, May 17. Her illness was of short duration and her death was caused by that dreaded disease, pneumonia.

She was born at Leroy, Mich., Nov. 25, 1871, and was married to J. E. Bradley Sept. 8, 1890. She came to reside among us five years ago and has won many friends by her sweet disposition and Christian character. She was a loving, faithful wife and mother, always thoughtful of their welfare and happiness.

She leaves a husband and two little boys, Howard and Harold, who are well known to all here, a father and mother, and two brothers—in California besides a large circle of friends.

KONJOLA PUTS GRATEFUL MAN BACK ON JOB

Suffered Ten Years From Stomach Trouble—Pays Splendid Tribute To New Medicine

MR. O. E. MITTEBUSCHER

"Read of my amazing experience with Konjola and then judge for yourself as to its merits," said Mr. O. E. Mittlebuscher, 4639 Cope street, Detroit. "I suffered from stomach trouble in various forms for ten years. Practically everything I ate caused me to have cramping spells and my stomach bloated with gas. For weeks at a time I was not able to eat any solid foods, nor drink anything cold. I was restless at night and became very nervous. Continually, I suffered from headaches and was only able to work part time."

"I first heard of Konjola through the recommendation of friends. I decided to find out what it would do for me. Before I finished the second bottle my condition improved wonderfully. I continued with the treatment until I had taken six bottles, and at the end of that time I was eating whatever I pleased without the slightest distress. My nerves were calmed and headaches disappeared. It has been four months since I quit taking Konjola and I have regained my strength. I have not lost a day's work since I completed the treatment."

Although many sufferers are greatly benefited within a week or two, it is best to take Konjola for six or eight weeks to obtain thorough results. Konjola is sold in Grayling, Mich., at the Mac & Gidley Drug Store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

WEATHER MAN DISCUSSES HOT WEATHER CLOTHING

Discussing the relation of hot weather and heat prostrations, R. A. Dyke of the New Orleans office of the Weather Bureau suggests that present styles in dress—particularly for men—are in part responsible for illness and discomfort. "It is likely that the habitual summer diet and clothing of the Gulf coast residents make them comparatively less susceptible to heat prostrations," says Mr. Dyke, who reports that when away from New Orleans he has "seen men in their offices on hot days wearing winter suits, vests and all."

New Orleans dress, however, does not merit unqualified approval, for Mr. Dyke comments that "even where we have learned to wear lighter summer clothing made of materials not much heavier than cotton shirting, we have continued to wear uncomfortable suspenders or tight belts, and tight collars, which have been properly condemned by some physicians because of the impeding effect they have on hot air that is trying to rise. Everybody knows that hot air rises, and we ought to know that belts and collars check the rise."

"Changes in the clothing of men occur very gradually," Mr. Dyke continues. "But he asks 'Is it vain to hope that a change in the direction of simplicity may enable us, at least in summer, to avoid tight collars and belts, and to be as comfortable as children and workmen in their coveralls?'"

WENDELL HALL, GUEST MASTER OF CEREMONIES ON SHELL PROGRAM

On Monday evening, May 19, Wendell Hall the "Red-headed Music-maker," veteran artist of the air, and famed writer of the song hit "It Ain't Gonna Rain No Mo'," was guest Master of Ceremonies on the Shell Program which is broadcast every Monday evening over the NBC Red network.

Wen Hall, is perhaps one of the most widely known radio artists today. He was the first Victor artist to enter the radio field and was also the first sponsored artist in radio. As a pioneer radio artist he made the first and only successful world tour of broadcasting history, during which he entertained from all the larger stations of America and Europe.

Wen Hall's intimate, friendly style of presentation, has endeared him to millions of radio listeners.

As usual the Shell program features Adolphe Dumont and his famous orchestra. Chauncey Parsons and Olin Bowen was heard in popular tenor and baritone selections.

THE CURSE OF THE BILL- BOARDS

Why the billion dollar road systems of America should be a nesting place for signs and billboards that settle down in flocks like buzzards along the right of way can be laid only to the citizen's good nature and his willingness to stand punishment. Americans probably would protest at billboards on the Congressional library. Chicagoans probably would object to signs on the Field museum. In the Yellowstone advertising is prohibited.

But great public roads built at least in great part to give motorists a chance to come in contact with our lovely countryside are bordered with signs from one end to the other. The hillside and the turn are plastered with them. The crab-apple that blossoms in the spring is hidden by them. The serene stream reflects posters, bills, signs in ill-literate confusions.—Chicago Tribune.

NEWS REVIEW OF CURRENT EVENTS

Senate Votes for Transfer of Prohibition Bureau to Law Department.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

TRANSFER of the prohibition bureau from the Treasury department to the Department of Justice was voted by the senate. This measure, the first and one of the most important of the law enforcement bills recommended by the Wickersham commission and urged by the administration, was passed without a record vote and having previously been voted through the house it went to the President for signature after a few minor changes had been concurred in by the house.

Several of the senators criticized certain features of the bill, especially the dual control of industrial alcohol by the Treasury and Justice departments, but Tydings of Maryland was the only one to offer amendments and his suggestions were speedily voted down. Mr. Tydings argued earnestly in favor of an amendment to permit the use of only nonpoisonous denaturants in industrial alcohol, asserting that present practice was in effect "giving the death penalty to a man who commits no greater crime than violation of the prohibition law." But a large majority of the senators evidently believed the statement of Sheppard of Texas that "poisonous matter put in industrial alcohol is not used in sufficient proportions to kill."

Senator Carter Glass of Virginia said the transfer of the prohibition bureau should have been made years ago, but he attacked the Wickersham commission for "wasting" nearly $250,000 and asking for that much more. He said he would propose a resolution calling for a statement of the commission's expenditures before any additional money is appropriated. He asserted that the commission had been spending its time "inquiring into delinquents, the depth of automobiles, and such things."

Under the terms of the bill Dr. James M. Doran, present commissioner of prohibition, will remain in the Treasury department, with the title of commissioner of industrial alcohol. Attorney General William D. Mitchell will have the appointment of the new commissioner of prohibition in the Department of Justice.

In connection with Tydings' attack on the poisoning of alcohol it should be stated that Commissioner Doran says his chemists have found that the many cases of "Jake paralysis" afflicting the drinkers of fake Jamaica ginger are caused by creosote and not by iso-propyl, the industrial alcohol denaturant prescribed by federal regulations.

SCOTT McBRIDE, general superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, was before the senate lobby committee several days and was an interesting and combative witness. Despite the vigorous attacks of Senator Blaine of Wisconsin and some rather damaging admissions, he upheld his side of the controversy fairly well. At one time he admitted that the league does not interest itself greatly in the economic views of a candidate, the principal aim being to insure the election of men who will vote right on prohibition, and that it sometimes supports dry voting, wet drinking candidates for office.

Plans to force a showdown vote on pending proposals to authorize a national referendum on repeal of the Eighteenth amendment or legalize the manufacture and sale of 2.75 per cent beer were agreed upon by members of the house wet bloc.

EXAMINATION of the London naval treaty occupied the time of the senate committees on foreign relations and naval affairs and the hearing before the former body attracted capacity audiences. Secretary of State Stimson and Admiral William V. Pratt were the main witnesses heard by that committee, both of them defending the pact vigorously.

Answering objections to the cruiser provisions of the treaty, which limit the United States to eighteen 8-inch gun cruisers and require the construction of 8-inch gun vessels if this country is to build up to the pact tonnage levels, Mr. Stimson said that the American delegation had followed the wisest course when it decided on a larger percentage of the smaller cruisers. By building a larger proportion of 6-inch gun cruisers, Mr. Stimson asserted the United States had a better chance of obtaining actual parity than if all 8-inch gun cruisers were built.

Before the naval affairs committee Secretary of the Navy Adams undertook to reply to the attacks of Chairman Hale on the treaty. Mr. Adams said that Japan had insisted upon this country's coming down from its proposal for twenty-one 8-inch gun cruisers and that the American delegation pushed its demand as far as possible without breaking off negotiations with Great Britain and Japan. The naval secretary added that he considered the delegation made a fair compromise with Japan.

In England and in Japan there are groups opposing the treaty each insisting, as do the American objectors, that the other nations got the best of the deal.

With Arthur Henderson, British foreign secretary, as mediator, conversations were held at Geneva by Aristide Briand and Dino Grandi looking for a solution of the Franco-Italian deadlock over naval parity. Satisfactory progress was made, and further negotiations will be carried on through diplomatic channels.

PRESIDENT HOOVER'S nomination of Owen J. Roberts to fill the vacancy on the Supreme court bench was referred to a subcommittee of the senate committee on judiciary and it was bolstered a favorable report would be made soon to the full committee. Confirmation by the senate also was anticipated since little opposition was voiced. Certain of the dry senators at first objected because Mr. Roberts was said to have made a speech against the Eighteenth amendment several years ago, but afterwards appeared satisfied with explanations of that occurrence. President Hoover of the American Federation of Labor indicated that organized labor was content with the appointment.

BY A vote of 84 to 27 the senate passed the third of the bills sponsored by Wagner of New York for the purpose of relieving unemployment through federal aid. This measure provides for an appropriation of $4,000,000 for the creation of a federal bureau of unemployment headed by a director who would co-operate with state and local unemployment agencies. The other two bills provide for the gathering of labor statistics and for a joint commission to expedite federal construction work.

Another important measure passed by the senate places Mexican immigration under the national origins quota system and, if it becomes law, will reduce the number of Mexican immigrants from 58,000 a year to fewer than 2,000.

GOV. WALTER J. KOHLER of Wisconsin was acquitted by a jury in Sheboygan of the charge of having violated the state corrupt practices act during his primary campaign in 1928. The attorneys for the state prepared to carry the case to the State Supreme court, but the governor and his friends consider that he has been fully vindicated.

DWIGHT W. MORROW, in a speech opening his campaign for the Republican senatorial nomination in New Jersey, declared he favored repeal of the Eighteenth amendment and restoration to the states of the power to determine their policy toward the liquor traffic. He thinks because it is not practicable, but he is against the return of the saloon.

UNCLE SAM wishes to know whether or not the Radio Corporation of America, Westinghouse Electric General Electric and seven affiliated concerns are violating the Sherman antitrust law in pooling their patents and operations in the field of radio equipment manufacture. Therefore the Department of Justice has filed suit naming these companies. Owen D. Young, head of R. C. A., professes to welcome this action, hoping it will clear up a confusing patent situation in the radio industry.

REAR ADMIRAL RICHARD E. BYRD, returning from his epochal exploration of the Antarctic regions, landed in the Canal Zone last week with five members of his expedition. They were given an enthusiastic welcome at Balboa and again at Panama, and planned to remain on the isthmus about two weeks. In another month the admiral will come back to Virginia and his home state will greet him at Richmond with highest honors. Gov. John Garland will present to him a sword purchased by more than ten thousand of his fellow citizens, and there will be banquets and receptions. The sword, designed in silver and gold, commemorates the famous flights over the North and South poles and the Atlantic crossing.

LAST week saw the passing of another famous Arctic explorer, Dr. Fridtjof Nansen, who died of pleurisy at his home in Oslo, Norway, at the age of sixty-eight years. For many years he had been devoted to scientific explorations in the Far North, the most important of his trips being the expedition of the Fram in 1893. Dr. Nansen was more than an explorer, having gained distinction as a teacher, author, humanitarian, statesman and diplomat. During the war he was high commissioner for repatriation of prisoners, and later was Norway's representative to the League of Nations and head of a Russian relief commission. These activities won him the Nobel peace prize.

LEADERSHIP of the civil disobedience campaign in India passed last week into the hands of Mrs. Sarojini Naidu, a distinguished Hindu poetess, and she proceeded to lead her forces against the government salt works at Dharan. The police prevented the raid by blocking the road, and once arrested the poetess, but released her.

In the northwestern part of India the revolt was increasing in seriousness and the situation in Lahore and other important cities was said to be growing worse daily. A great mob gained possession of Sholapur after severe fighting with the troops, but later the soldiers ousted the natives and martial law was proclaimed there.

To add to the trials of the British, they are having trouble with the wild border tribes along the Afghan frontier and have subjected them to aerial bombing.

PRESIDENT Chiang Kai-shek of China is proceeding with the most vigor to crush the rebellion of the northern provinces and his German-trained troops are reported to have gained a great victory in Anhwei province in a six-day battle, taking 10,000 prisoners and killing many. Pursuing the rebels, the Nationalists captured their new base at Kwetsh in Honan province. Captains of that city, the Nationalists asserted, would force the northerners to fall back upon Kaifeng to consolidate their shattered ranks.

All foreigners were asked by their consuls to get out of the city of Chengchow in Honan, which has been repeatedly bombed by Nationalist planes and was expected to be the center of severe fighting.

SUCCESS crowned the efforts of the first of this year's Atlantic ocean swimmers, Jean Mermon of France, and two companions, carrying mail from Paris, stopped off from St. Louis, Senegal, Africa, and landed at Natal, South Africa, 29 hours and 15 minutes later.

water shortly the 1976 miles' swim was nearly completed, a terrific electric rainstorm through which they passed.

Cool Pablo Sider, star aviator of the Mexican army, and Lieut. Carlos Salas, who started on a nonstop flight from Mexico to Buenos Aires, were killed when their plane crashed into the sea off Port Limon, Costa Rica. They were attempting to land during a sudden storm.

BIG MILK OUTPUT CUTS DAIRY PRICE

NEW YORK.—Increasing milk production by producers serving the profitable big city trade has created a surplus which has lowered the prices of butterfat and depressed the entire dairy industry in the view of W. P. Jensen, manager of the American Association of Creamery Butter Manufacturers. In an article in the New York Produce Review and American Creamery.

"Perhaps it has never occurred to the cream producer in Oklahoma, Montana, or Michigan," says Mr. Jensen, "when he reads his newspaper about milk strikes in Chicago and contests here and there with bargaining associations that these happenings have anything to do with his situation. He must now realize that they do have a very decided bearing, due to the fact that remunerative prices for milk in the milk sheds of the larger cities have increased production to a point where a large surplus has come about and this surplus is the very instrument which reduced the price of his butterfat in Oklahoma, Montana, or Michigan."

This explanation of the situation in the dairy market disproves once more the assertion that the butter surplus was caused by increasing consumption of margarine, according to Dr. J. S. Abbott, secretary of the Institute of Margarine Manufacturers.

"The real cause is overproduction," said Dr. Abbott. "Its solution lies not in discriminating against margarine, which is a wholesome, economical, and palatable food, but in adjusting the dairy output to conform with consumer demands."

TEA DRINKING NOW GOOD BUSINESS IN AMERICAN OFFICES

NEW YORK.—Business to the tune of tea cups is Manhattan's latest concession to the amenities of life. One may drop in to see his favorite broker and find him at tea, call on his banker and discover him with a tea pick-me-up in front of him, or interview his doctor and be offered a fragrant cup of the stimulating beverage to loosen the humors.

The new vogue is emulating the noblest east in the matter of mixing tea and business. It is disclosed in a bulletin of the Tea Association of the United States, just made public here.

"Custom of afternoon tea is practiced far more extensively in the offices of the nation than most people realize," the bulletin states. "Business men haven't time to go out to a tea room and loiter over a cup of tea, so they have it brewed right on the premises. In that way the American tea-drinking habits differ from those of the oriental."

"America seems to have definitely borrowed the idea of mixing tea and business from the Chinese. And business men have found the custom a profitable one. Not only does it give a new touch of charm to the prosaic business day, but it pepes up the ace executive to bigger and better things, they say."

Science has re-enforced the American housewife in her fight against the menace of disease spreading insects, by evolving a chemical pest destroyer that kills flies, mosquitoes, roaches and other non-biting insects by penetrating to their nervous system through the breathing pores of their bodies, according to the American Research Foundation. Millions of housewives have found the pest destroyer the most effective means of ridding the household of dangerous insect visitors.

THE ROSE IS THE FLOWER

The wild rose is the official flower of the United States. In about a million votes cast in the selection of a national flower, this beautiful modest flower received nearly a half.

It is a good selection. It is found in so many parts of the United States—north or south, east or west. It is hardy. It possesses color. It has most of the beauty of the hot house plant but it grows upon the hillside. It is a good selection.

In the vote for the national flower the columbine stood second, Thimbleweed got a hundred thousand votes and the goldenrod received 84,000.

The goldenrod deserves all that it received. We cannot imagine that many who suffer from hay fever approve the golden rod. Its pollen does not bring happiness, but this yellow flower is always beautiful and many times, magnificent.

On the whole the wild rose is a good selection.

DRUG TRADE TO SHARE INTEREST IN MEDICINE CO.

Konjola Stock Offer Made To American Drugists; Firm's Growth Amazing

Cincinnati, Ohio, May 8th (Special).—G. H. Mosby, President and General Manager of the Mosby Medicine Company, one of the world's largest manufacturers of prepared remedies, announced yesterday that eastern banking interests had bought a minority holding in the company. The purchase, however will in no way effect the present control or management of the concern which remains in the hands of Mr. Mosby. A program of expansion in this country and in foreign markets will be inaugurated immediately. Banking interests will be represented on the Board of Directors by the following: James Imbrie of Imbrie & Co., Bankers, New York, and F. J. Romell, representing Imbrie & Co., Cincinnati. Other directors are G. H. Mosby, President and General Manager, W. T. Maynard, Vice-President and Merchandising Director, Charles Mosby, Secretary and Treasurer, and G. O. Rose, Legal Counsel, all of Cincinnati, Ohio. The selected Konjola dealer in Grayling is the Mac & Gidley Drug Store.

Application for change of the corporate name from the Mosby Medicine Company to Konjola, Inc., will be filed at the office of the Secretary of State at Columbus.

In discussing the negotiations which led up to the investment of an eastern capital in the Cincinnati concern, Mr. Mosby made the following statement:

"Numerous efforts have been made in the last two years on the part of trade and banking interests to buy into the company but it has been only in connection with our present expansion program that a sale of minority interest has seemed desirable. This sale of minority interest not only assures our present expansion program but will also allow, through special arrangement, particularly favorable participation in the ownership of the company to those drug dealers who have been largely responsible for the success of the business."

"The business of the company had its inception seven years ago since which time Konjola has grown to be one of the two or three outstanding successes in the proprietary field."

"During each of the past three years rapidly increasing sales have permitted the company to practically triple its advertising appropriation over that of each preceding year. Last year the company spent approximately $1,700,000.00 in advertising, nine-tenths of which was spent in newspapers throughout the country."

"Net profit of the company for the year 1929, after charging out to current expense the entire advertising appropriation of $1,700,000.00, were approximately $300,000.00. These net profits represent an increase of over 300% in earnings during the past two years."

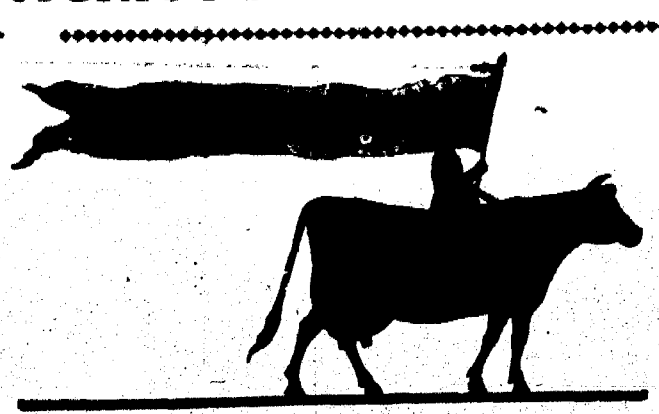

"For the first four months of the present calendar year we have maintained our advertising expenditure at approximately the 1929 rate and after charging out all advertising to current expense our net earnings are running approximately double those for the year 1929."

The rise of the Mosby Medicine Company and its product is one of the marvels of the medical, drug and business world. It is also amazing to leaders in the advertising business. It has dazzled everyone but the man who did it. Newspaper men in an interview recently granted them by Mr. Mosby revealed some interesting facts concerning the phenomenal growth of the Konjola organization. Seven years ago Gilbert H. Mosby had an idea. This was not an unusual experience for Mr. Mosby had been having ideas ever since he was a kid on the family farm near Versailles, Kentucky, and is still having them but this was the big idea like the thrill that comes once in a lifetime.

Mr. Mosby had been working for several medicine companies. He knew the business from top to bottom. He analyzed the success and failures of different companies and by the process of deduction and elimination he gathered up the best points of all of them, decided to make the best medicine in the world and stake his fortune (if $2,000.00 can be called a fortune) and his energy on the outcome. So, armed with the bank account of $2,000.00, he rented a small room, installed laboratory equipment about large enough to fit up a modern kitchenette, attached a two-burner gas stove and got ready to experiment.

Mosby had already devised the word "Konjola." Then ingredients had to be bought; 32 of these, 22 of them roots and herbs. This purchase cost a large dent into the capital. Mosby was general organizer, miner, bottler, labeler, and most everything; also he

AGRICULTURAL NOTES

Chicks of different ages should not be raised together. The older ones will crowd the younger; poorly developed birds will be the result.

Alfalfa should never be pastured the first year and only lightly the second. Over-grazing often injures a good stand.

Pasturing sheep on annual crops makes it possible to rotate pastures more frequently. This lessens the danger of infection by stomach worms and other parasites.

According to the Bureau of Dairy Industry, it is necessary to remove cows from garlic-infested pastures 4 to 7 hours before milking to eliminate the garlic flavor and odor from milk.

Fleeces should be rolled up, not too tightly, skin side out, and tied with paper twine before shipping to market. Wool buyers prefer this method of tying to that done with wool boxes.

Young pasture grass should be grazed closely enough to keep the leaves growing and to prevent the development of heavy stalks. Such grass is richer in protein and soluble carbohydrates and is more readily digestible than older grass in which more stalks have developed.

The popular belief that the rattlesnake acquires a new ring each year and that the number of rings indicates its age is wholly incorrect, says the U. S. Biological Survey. A rattlesnake adds from 2 to 4 rings a year, usually one each time the skin is shed. The rattlesnake seldom has more than 10 rings, because the terminal rings are worn down and broken off.

Milk production of dairy cows can not be increased above the normal by the use of any drug or combination of drugs, says the veterinarian of the Food, Drug, and Insecticide Administration. When decrease of milk production is due to disease the use of a nostrum instead of proper treatment may prove exceedingly costly to the owner of a dairy herd.

Unlike the true clovers and alfalfa, sweetclover seldom causes bloat. However, during abnormally wet periods cases of bloating have been reported. To be on the safe side, do not turn cattle on sweetclover pasture when the sweetclover is wet. Even when it is dry, if the cattle have not been accustomed to it, fill them up with other feed before turning them on the sweet clover.

The cabbage worm, one of the worst pests of cabbage, can be controlled if an arsenical poison is applied as soon as damage is detected and before the worms become too abundant. Lead arsenate, and Paris green are effective poisons and may be applied either as a spray or as a dust. Arsenicals are safe to use until the heads of the cabbages are nearly formed, because the poison disappears almost entirely within 2 or 3 weeks after application. All outer leaves of treated were the sales manager and traveling SLICK ADVERTISING SOLICITOR

When the first batch of Konjola emerged from the busy little two-burner stove Mosby made a quick shift from overalls to a one hundred dollar suit of clothes and had the first shipment of Konjola sent to Muncie, Indiana, and the career of Konjola was launched in a drug store in the Hoosier state with Mosby, sole owner and originator of the medicine, as the original Konjola man.

More than ten million bottles have been sold since the inception of the business. These are staggering figures but are easily explained when one knows Mosby and his forcible character.

One of the newspaper men asked Mr. Mosby to what he attributed his marvelous success. He modestly replied that whatever success he had made was due to the merit of Konjola and the selling power of newspaper advertising, properly and consistently applied.

BE CAREFUL ON THE ROAD

Be safe when you drive on the highways this summer. The number of people killed in automobile accidents so far in 1930 exceed the number killed last year.

The great cause of serious accidents is speed. Most people drive too fast. We do not refer to the speed on the open road but the speed on highways on which danger lurks. A speed of 50 miles an hour may be safe in one place and the speed of 30 miles a danger in another.

Remember this—most automobile accidents are preventable. There is someone at fault in nearly every case where injury or death exists. That fault may be very far from intentional but it exists.

Be careful when you drive.

Her Fat is Melting Fast Away

All over the world Kruschen Salts is appealing to girls and women who strive for an attractive, free from fat figure that cannot fail to win admiration.

Here's the recipe that banishes fat and brings into blossom all the natural attractiveness that every woman possesses.

Every morning take one half teaspoon of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water before breakfast.

Be sure and do this every morning for "It's the little daily dose that takes off the fat." Don't miss a morning.

The Kruschen habit means that every particle of poisonous waste matter and harmful acids and gases are expelled from the system.

At the same time the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels are toned up and the pure, fresh blood containing Nature's six life-giving salts are carried to every organ, gland, nerve and fibre of the body and this is followed by "that Kruschen feeling" of energetic health and activity that is reflected in bright eyes, clear skin, cheerful vivacity and charming figure.

Get an 85c bottle of Kruschen Salts at Mac & Gidley's or any drug store (lasts 4 weeks) with the distinct understanding that you must be satisfied with results or money back.

One Montana woman lost 19 pounds of fat in 4 weeks and feels better than she has for years.

Memo Corwin of the Corwin Auto Sales is the victim of gasoline fire that occurred last Saturday afternoon. He was cleaning the motor of a car with gasoline when suddenly the gasoline caught fire and spread with a flash. One of Memo's feet and leg were badly burned. He is able to be out but still unable to stand upon his foot. Just how the gasoline happened to catch fire seems to be a mystery. The car hadn't been driven since that morning and the motor was cold, still the gas caught fire, probably from some part of the ignition or from friction.

Happy Little Octopus
Torturing Witnesses
Water Fine, in Spots
The Family of Five

Not so long ago the government became much excited because Standard Oil was supposed to be worth "almost a billion dollars" and chopped the big octopus up into several small pieces. Each went its separate way, a little octopus on its own account.

Now Mr. Teagle, head of Standard Oil of New Jersey, one of several brothers and sisters, says his company made in 1929 $120,012,794.

That amounts to 5 per cent on $2,400,000,000 and Mr. Teagle says that if the oil industry had been wiser in its methods he would have made a great deal more.

The Jugoslavain King Alexander is accused of allowing police to torture political prisoners. One brought to court in a wheel chair says he was beaten, tied with ropes, whipped with canes, at intervals, all night long. Other prisoners were treated in similar fashion.

Civilization, backward in some places, in others makes progress. Not long ago men accused were tortured everywhere, to make them tell what they knew. Torture is no longer legal.

When Queen Elizabeth decided to cut off the head of her lover, Essex, she was praised for her restraint in not having him put to the torture. His abject submission, and fear of things he might have said under torture about the woman whom he indirectly described as an ugly old hunchback, may have caused the unusual gentleness.

If you are still in the stock market or hovering on the edge, like a small boy asking, "How is the water?" know that just now "the water is fine," in spots. Old Father, the money dragon, in addition to his pile of gold, has in his interior a gigantic mass of undigested securities.

He is still alive, but certain grounds indicate that he is having trouble in spots where the securities were fed to him in millions of shares at a time.

Doctor Tucker of the United States Naval hospital at Norfolk discovers in fruits and vegetables "five good germs," called "the family of five." They give health and strength, supplying vitamins, life elements essential to existence.

They are missing in green fruits, and die when fruit decays, making it poisonous. They are not injured by heat, and exist in canned fruits and vegetables. A vitally important discovery.

The League of Nations appoints a special commission of two Swedes and one Dutchman to study the historic problem of the walling wall in Jerusalem, cause of so much bitterness between Jews and Arabs.

The Arabs have one of their most important places of worship immediately adjoining the walling wall, where Jews from all over the world gather to lament the fall of Jerusalem.

Arabs have been in possession of Jerusalem for centuries, ever since they beat the Crusaders. And, according to their Koran, it is their holy city also.

There is no universal national feeling in India. Mohammedans hate Hindus and vice versa. There are tens of millions of both. The native-born Indians in the British army fight for Britain against their brothers "loyally."

Three hundred million Alakites in India are kept in hand by only 200,000 Britishers on the spot, fewer than one-tenth of 1 per cent.

Mr. Macaulay, head of the Canadian Life Assurance company, expects our stocks to regain soon 60 per cent of the losses in the big 1929 break. He thinks that 1931 probably, 1932 surely, will see "the 1929 peak once more."

The great gambling house at Monte Carlo is said. Last year's profits amounted to only 576 per cent, lowest in years.

That compares well with the interest rate on government bonds, or dividends on legitimate industrial stocks. But it isn't much for the gambling house.

That 575 per cent interests those that are foolish enough to gamble on horse racing, in gambling houses or otherwise. So-called "honest games" are arranged to yield "the house" a certain profit of about 40 per cent on every dollar bet. You can imagine what dishonest games make.

Many remember, when the Panama canal was suggested, how the gigantic sum staggered imagination.

We lent forty times that sum to Europe to help the processes of killing, and staggered nobody but little people that sold Liberty bonds far below par.

Now the War department studies the plans for a bridge over the Hudson river at Fifty-seventh street in New York.

It would cost $180,000,000, but that might be no one.

We have passed into the billion dollar era. More millions attract little attention.

NEWS & COMMENTS
FROM WASHINGTON(By Congressman Roy O. Woodruff, Tenth Michigan District.)

Political events are piling up in the latter days of the Congressional session. The tariff bill has become a deadlock and the question now is whether there will be a bill enacted at all. The final test will come, of course, on the acceptance of the Conference Report, unless a deadlock which the Senate may refuse to break continues in the Conference Committee.

Added to the tariff tangle is the dual investigation going on before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and the Senate Naval Affairs Committee on the London Parley. Sharp dissent and divergence of opinion has developed between Secretary of State Stimson, Secretary of the Navy Adams, and the Naval Advisors, Admirals Hillary P. Jones and Mark L. Bristol, as to just what the United States really will get out of the pact.

Secretary Stimson defends the pact. Admirals Jones and Bristol unhesitatingly condemn it. Secretary of the Navy Adams likes some sections of the pact, but apparently is unwilling to commend other parts of it. It has now become practically certain that intense debate will take place on the measure before the Senate and it is becoming more and more uncertain as to whether the pact will be confirmed by the Senate. Opposition to the pact has developed in the House of Commons in Great Britain and generally it is believed in Washington that the pact has a rocky road ahead of it.

Much interest centers around the suit by the Government against the Radio Corporation of America and other companies involved in a cross-licensing agreement on radio patents. That the result of the suit will be far-reaching and will vitally affect big business is agreed. The issue will, of course, go to the Supreme Court and not the least unlikely effect may be legislation by the next session of the Congress to put new teeth in the anti-trust laws.

It is generally recognized that the patent laws need overhauling and have for some years. When the patent laws were enacted no such things as "big business" and "cross-licensing" were known. The plain intent of the present patent laws is to give the patentee a seventeen-year monopoly of his discovery or invention. But, through pooling agreements and cross-licensing arrangements, it has become possible for great aggregations of capital to buy up all patents covering some important utility such as radio, create what is frankly a monopoly, and apparently slide under the anti-trust laws by way of the patent statutes. It is to decide this important question that the present radio suits are being brought.

H. R. 12171, a bill designed to curb market-stock trading by making it a felony for anyone to use the mails in promoting the sales of stocks not actually owned by and in the possession of the seller, will not place an undue burden of responsibility on the Post Office Department, according to a statement made this week by Horace J. Donnelly, Solicitor of the Post Office Department. The bill, if enacted, it is believed, would curb to some extent the gambling features of the stock market, but would not, it is conceded, be sufficiently strong to eliminate the dangers of boom markets and subsequent crashes such as occurred last fall with disastrous effect on the business of the country.

The forthcoming tour of the National Parks by President Hoover and his party is expected to be greatly augmented by visitors to these attractions that special arrangements are being made by the Park Service to care for the unusual number of tourists expected. Many persons who otherwise would plan to go to Europe will visit the National Parks instead, it is believed, according to a statement this week by Acting Director of the National Park Service, A. E. Domanay. Interest in our national parks has been steadily gaining, the statement shows.

A lake approximately 110 miles long will be formed by waters of the Colorado River when Boulder Dam is completed, according to a report received this week from a field representative of the Department of the Interior. The lake will have two arms, one extending about 40 miles into Grand Canyon, and the other reaching up the Virgin River as far as the town of Overton.

THE CAUSES OF LOSS

Recent rains have settled the forest fire question for some weeks in advance. There will be no serious blazes.

But the forest fire hazard still remains. We must, in time of safety, look forward to preventing loss in the adverse times.

The causes of forest fires were recently discussed by Grover Conzett, state forester, in a late issue of the United States Daily. Lightning fires vary from 1 to 15 to the 1,000 in this state. Railroad fires, which used to be the largest number, have now been reduced to around 15 per cent, with practically no damage.

Smoker fires in the last 10 years have gone from practically nothing to over 10 per cent of the total. Fires from agricultural pursuits, clearing lands, burning meadows, and all affiliated causes, still hold upward to 50 per cent of the number of fires started. Incendiarism is probably not over 50 fires to the 1,000.

Now that President Coolidge is getting a dollar a word for his output, one can readily understand why he has been holding out so long.

HUSBANDS!
... and hand to your wife

I vote to "Let the Laundry do it" for the following reasons:

- ☐ I married a wife, not a martyr.
- ☐ I rely on modern methods in my work—why not in the home?
- ☐ I like my shirts and collars to have that crisp, professionally laundered look.
- ☐ I've lost my appetite for bit-or-miss "washday suppers."
- ☐ I want to stop out or entertain folks once in a while and you don't do yourself justice after wrestling with the wash all day.

Signed:.....
Your Husband.

Whether you vote "wet" or "dry" on the Prohibition question—whether you favor repeal, modification or strict enforcement of the 18th Amendment—you must decide at once a far more vital problem:

"What shall be done about washday in the home?"

Your family's health and happiness are at stake. For washday drudgery not only is robbing millions of women of their youth, their charm, their ability to enjoy life to the full. But it is also depriving children of that precious companionship and guidance which is their birthright.

Washday does not belong in modern life. Its back-ache and bother, its drain on energy, its theft of golden leisure hours—are relics of the Dark Ages when women worked in the fields. For the home's sake—for our community's sake—let's abolish washday and clothesline drudgery forever!

DEPT. TAKING
CREEL CENSUS

Thousands of creel census cards through which the Fish Division of the Department of Conservation expects to obtain considerable detail information on general fishing conditions in all parts of the state are now being mailed out to all of the district conservation officers and to Isaak Walton League Chapters.

Last year several thousand creel census cards were returned to the Fish Division and it is expected that more will be compiled this season. "These cards furnish comparative information on certain waters and districts indicating the importance and predominance of each species of fish; the relation and benefits of artificial planting to natural reproduction; which sections are providing the most recreation to the fishing public, etc.," says the notice sent all local conservation officers from the Lansing office.

"The data furnished is recorded and correlated with information gained from other sources and is of value in formulating legislation and policies relating to the fish resources of Michigan waters."

Cards are printed in three colors, white, for the use of conservation officers, blue for the use of Isaak Walton League Chapters and pink for the use of the fishing public.

The Isaak Walton League cards are furnished members through their organizations but the others are supplied by the District Conservation Officers.

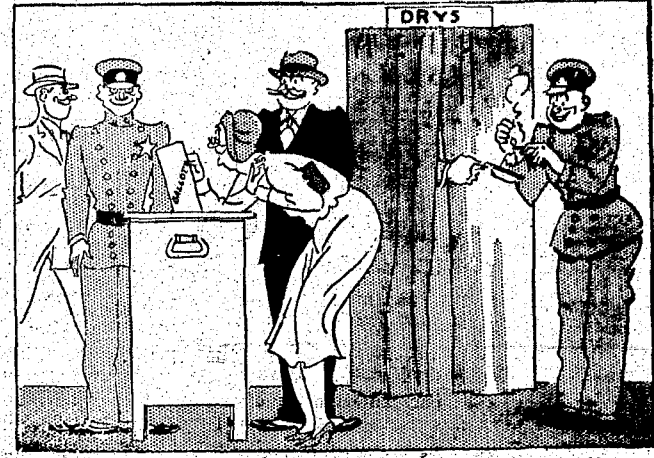

The cards provide space for indicating the name of the lake or stream, the county and the township; the species of fish caught, the number and the average length; the time spent fishing; kind of bait used; number of small fish hooked and put back, etc.

"Anglers should have no hesitancy in answering questions for the creel census when approached by a conservation officer," Fred A. Westerman, head of the Fish Division said. "Through the census, officers are only trying to obtain information that will be used to better fishing conditions."

The pacifists would like to name the national emblem the "possum instead of the eagle."

NO SUBSTITUTE FOR TIME

The president predicts prosperity and the stock market breaks. There is nothing unusual in that situation. No one knows what the stock market will do, and what it does really may not mean much.

Out of all that may be said, good or bad, about the industrial situation there is a certain fundamental condition which must be overcome before the greatest prosperity exists.

Industry has been too efficient in the past few years. Under the stimulus of easy credit it has expanded both plants and machinery until production has outrun demand.

But one thing remains to be done. That is to wait for a while. Soon, if production is less than normal, demand will catch up, the wheels of industry will whirl, trade and commerce will be lively and people will be employed.

But there is no substitute for the time which must elapse during which these adjustments must be made—Grand Rapids (Minn.) Herald-Record.

ITALY HAS BIG DAY

Italy celebrated the fourth annual Fascist Levee by launching five ships of war, according to the Navy Recruiting Station, Detroit. Two 10,000-ton cruisers, the Zara and Fiume, mount eight 8-inch guns, sixteen 4-inch guns, four anti-aircraft guns, eight torpedo tubes and a hangar and catapult for three seaplanes. Two

5,000-ton cruisers, Alberto da Giussana and Giovanni Delle Nere, armed with 6-inch guns and torpedo tubes were launched, and a submarine, the Delfino, of 8,850 tons.

Just how this country could get along without a thousand college professors getting out an advisory pronouncement once in a while is hard to tell.
